The above is an accurate representation of a 'Garden of Remembrance' plaque at St. John's Church, Hale. The size depicted is the actual size of the finished object. The surface colour of the plaque is a true "metallic" gold colour, which does not reproduce accurately on ink-jet printers. Dependent on the length of name(s) etc, the engraver will adjust the size of the script to match the size of the plaque, which is limited to that which will comfortably fit on the face of a brick used to construct the Garden of Remembrance wall.
